----- DICOM Thumbnailer is a free to use Windows program that provides the ability to preview DICOM and DCM files in the Windows Explorer or file manager. The previewed images will show any tags or markers used in the original file and may have any of several images added as a thumbnail. The preview images can be ordered by size or date, or range of dates, and when searching for files they can be filtered and searched using the tags and or date/time stored in the original DICOM/DCM file. Desktop and/or folder previews can be generated, allowing quick filtering of the contents of folders to keep only a few images ready to view. When a preview is clicked the application will load the full file, which is done instantly in one click so there is no lag time. The application will generate images of all accessible files in an Explorer window, even if no DICOM or DCM files are present. It does not operate on a unique special folder as folders are scanned for any DICOM or DCM files. The application uses the same registry action to enable the preview for different image formats.
