PINOUT DESCRIPTIONS.Butt Cracks and Deep Pockets I don't know how it went unnoticed in the past 20 years, but undergarments are now advertised in every possible way. Do you want support, or do you want attention? I wear a bra for support, and my underwear is not integrated with my underwear. It is specifically designed to be seen. My bras hang off of me, because I like that. I think the Unmentionables are terrible. Focusing more on the bottom of the female body, when there is so much to see of the front, is only going to promote hyper-sexualized undergarments. Plus, when women get called "sexy" every time they turn around, it's a sign of bad things to come. The point of undergarments should be to support the woman wearing them.The long term objective of this proposal is to identify novel functions of the NMDA receptor complex. Glutamate is the major excitatory neurotransmitter in the brain and the NMDA receptor is a key player in synaptic transmission. NMDA receptors are heterotetramers made up of the NR1 subunit and one of several members of the NR2 subunit family. There is considerable experimental evidence to support a role for the NMDA receptor in epilepsy, stroke, pain, and other neurological and psychiatric disorders. It has also been demonstrated that NMDA receptors can mediate neuronal apoptosis, cell death. Unfortunately, the role of NMDA receptor in apoptosis is just beginning to be understood. Among the hypothesized functions for the NMDA receptor in apoptosis is an indirect activation of the MAPK/Erk cascade. If this is true, and if it is mediated by a NMDA receptor assembly containing a NR2B subunit, then this could provide a novel approach to the treatment of stroke and related disorders. We also hypothesize that the number, function, and localization of the NMDA receptor will be altered in glial cells, which could influence subsequent effects on neurons. To test these hypotheses, we will use a combination of molecular approaches (ChIP, co
