The game was designed by Richard F. Eisenberg and originally published in 1983. In an attempt to capture the flavor of World War II, the developers used the names of actual military units used during that era. Objects of Desire is a fantastic new platforming adventure, set in a fantastical parody of the Back to the Future universe. When Marty McFly travels back in time to 2015 to marry his girlfriend Jennifer, he has two problems. Firstly, Dr. Emmet Brown is running the show. With the help of his time-traveling DeLorean, Marty must discover how to prevent Brown from changing history and, more important, changing his cold, heartless future past. Secondly, Marty must win over Jennifer's meddling mum. But without the proper planning and luck, everything could go horribly wrong. Can you solve the mystery, beat the games and save the future? Features: Excellent gameplay mechanics and clever puzzles make Objects of Desire a fun and exciting platforming adventure. Awesome music and funky graphics set the stage for a fun and frantic run through an awesomely sinister 1980s parody. Features: Dynamic Time Warp: Try to beat the clock by acquiring items and solving puzzles in the blink of an eye. Party Mode: Pair with up to three friends in this party game-style mode! Tournament Mode: A new spin on the classic arcade games! Features: Awesome time travelling physics: Drive your DeLorean through the clockwork toys of the future. Easy to learn, hard to master gameplay: The controls are intuitive and immediately familiar. Features: For fans of Back to the Future, the Looney Tunes and 1930s cartoons, Objects of Desire is a satirical trip back to the innocent 80s. In this action-packed platforming adventure, you are Marty McFly, a 15-year-old boy from the future who accidentally gets swept back to 1985 and tries to save his future mother from death. Marty is a great guy, and the game is created with teenagers like him in mind, so we made sure to give him some cool '80s gee-whiz-type action to help him get through the adventure. Marty is a Time Traveler; he can "jump" between 1985 and 2015 to save his mother, Jennifer, and other members of the Future Marty's family, and beat the games. But watch out: the bullies, the bullies, the bullies! They're trying to break up Marty's family

1) Choose among 4 different officer characters (a Retainer, a Castle Lord, a Daimyo, a Daimyo's Son) 2) Experience the drama and politics of the Warring States 3) Includes a brand-new story based on "The Saga of the Warring States" * "The Saga of the Warring States" is the original RPG series that follows the great moment of change in Japan during the Warring States period. That original story has been the base of "NOBUNAGA'S AMBITION: Sphere of Influence" from the start, and the story will play out as an even larger tale. * Players can enjoy "NOBUNAGA'S AMBITION: Sphere of Influence", which takes place within the rules established by the "NOBUNAGA'S AMBITION" series, and then experience the "The Saga of the Warring States" story as a brand-new beginning after. Game "NOBUNAGA'S AMBITION: Sphere of Influence" is a Warring States-related game designed for PlayStation Vita, however, there is compatibility with PlayStation 3 systems. For more information, please go to our official website: In addition, we are planning to release a strategy-RPG game for PlayStation 3 next year. Please look forward to it! Game "NOBUNAGA'S AMBITION: Sphere of Influence" is a turn-based strategy game released in 2018. NOBUNAGA'S AMBITION PRESENTS IN THE ACTIVITY PARK! A new experience begins in the Activity Park. A new section has been added in the event not to dishearten all the existing Nobunaga's Ambition players. The Activity Park has been designed with two major elements in mind: to offer new gameplay features for existing players of Nobunaga's Ambition while also providing a new theme and setting for Nobunaga's Ambition players who want to enjoy Nobunaga's Ambition in a different setting. In the Activity Park, players will be able to enjoy the life of Nobunaga, and do all the things he does, while still enjoying the world of the Warring States! Special activities, new items, more maps, and Nobunaga's Ambition's most beloved characters will be appearing in the Activity Park! In addition, there

! Heelloooo Puppoos!!! The Refugee Camp Project is a project which started as a secret project, and then I decided to give the project a home on Gaia and here's the project documentation. My goal is to create a realistic world with a refugee camp into which players can get established and get some development done. Developers and players will be collaborating on the creation of new mods as well as the improvement of current features. The design I'm following is to build a world rich in details like that of a country which has been devastated by war, followed by the process of rebuilding a new life for refugees and the efforts of international humanitarian aid organisations to bring some order to the chaos which emerged and maintain resources for future rebuilding. The refugee camp is to offer a new destination where those who came to the world of Gaia have a ground to secure the future. The initial setting is Mediterranean country. A volcanic island and a fertile valley surrounded by the high sea in the middle of the continent. But the story is deeper than that. There are European capitals involved in the case of Balkan conflict, there are problems in the Middle East, and Asia and Africa have witnessed different ongoing ones. Historical books get blown open offering in depth information on these conflicts and the human struggle to survive. But they are facts, they lie beneath the surface waiting to be discovered. Here we are with a story about a valley between the chaos, the broken bridge to the outside world, where a lonely group of refugees wishing to survive give life to a new reality.

Features The Refugee Camp's atmosphere is divided into indoor and outdoor areas. In the first phase there will be three houses with 25 rooms in them. Each room is described in a special technology report which tells exactly where it can be developed. A room that holds laptops will show the highest progression value if a laptop is placed inside. Each room is directly connected to the main building hall where people will go through Customs and risk finding themselves confined to the camp. The main hall also contains the camp's office. If there are "Black Listed" rooms in that building, only potential informers are allowed in them. There are plenty of dedicated resources available in the main room but more than that, there are jobs which players can work on to progress their settlement. The main
