What's new in HtoL NiQ: The Firefly Diary - Digital Art Book:

Model Information The Western Lines of Scotland Model Add-On consists of additional wagons in different classes for use by Model Train Simulator Train Simulator allows mod creators the opportunity to create their own locomotives, wagons and accessories to be imported into Train Simulator simply as a new DLC or as a combination with another DLC. 7 December 2012 The Pacific Scrapyard Express Model Year: Do-U-Wants Vendor: Irie models Version purchased: Add-On product The Pacific Scrapyard Express Model Add-On (PSX2) is for use with Train Simulator 2013. The Western Lines of Scotland (WLS) route has over 50 stations and much of the track belongs to the National Railway Museum in York. The Scrapyard Steam Train uses a blend of heritage diesel and loco electrics. The PSX2 add-on includes 19 wagons such as double Dutch tender, cattle wagon, oil tankers, bucket van, tank wagons, two brakes vans and one maintenance van. The PSX includes 44 metre long scrapyard wagons and the file in purchased add-ons includes only wagons with lengths of between 1 and 3 metres. The Western Lines of Scotland Model Add-On (WLS 2) The WLS section features slightly modified WLS wagons with a better representation of the stations along the line. The wagons include a replacement of the paper grain silo and paper covered freight wagon with ore and coal hopper wagons. The PSX 2 railcar includes six new wagons detailed in the main add-on but also includes variations of the same one set of wagons that makes it easier to swap the wagons out of the optional railcar into a railway wagon and vice versa. The Western Lines of Scotland Model Add-On (PSX2) The PSX2: Western Lines of Scotland Model Add-On A mail van will also be released sometime during 2016. Included in the download are mods for OS2, FS2 and API. The detailed wagons are only included in the Add-On purchase. However in the Experimental track pack version there is a printed colour version available as well as a free version with its respective photographic portrait included. Train Simulator Western Lines of Scotland Route Add-On Features Included in the Western Lines of Scotland Model Add-On (WLS2) are the following new

Copyright : WebAgentQ: Getting the last position of a string in a Django model I am trying to create a unique constraint in Django on a column in my database that I am writing to, I am using the following model to try to prevent duplicates: class MyModel(models.Model): my_string = models.CharField(max_length=100) class Meta: unique_together = ('my_string') I am also currently doing some tests to see if the above is working, and I get the following results, which means that it is not working. >>> my_model = MyModel.objects.create() >>> my_model.my_string u'test string' >>> my_model.my_string = my_string >>> my_model.my_string u'test string' >>> my_model.save() >>> my_model =

MyModel.objects.get(pk=1) >>> my_model.my_string u'test string' I am not sure if I need to add some code or if Django has it built in. I would really appreciate any suggestions! A: You would need to define a constraint on a field, that is either a field, or a related name of a field (through a ManyToManyField for example) of a model object. A unique_together constraint applies to the models you defined, so it will only work for certain fields of these models, that have been defined. If
